Contents

1 Abstract 4

2 Introduction 4

3 Literature Review 6

4 Questions for Preceptors (in order of presentations) 6

4.1 Dr. Walker 6

4.2 Dr. Kinard 6

4.3 Mr. Swartz 6

4.4 Dr. Hayhurst 6

4.5 Dr. Mirro 6

5 Problem Statement 6

5.1 Customer(s) 6

5.1.1 Types of Customers 6

5.1.2 Customer Needs 6

5.2 Use Case(s) or Scenario(s) 6

5.3 System Boundary 6

5.4 Interfaces and Interface Risks 6

6 System Design 6

6.1 Translation of Customer Needs (CNs) to Candidate Functional Requirements (FRs) 6

6.2 System Design Map (to 5 levels) 6

6.3 Value Streams 6

6.3.1 Description of Value Streams/Major Process Steps 6

6.3.2 Activities, Connection and Flow (ACF) Diagram for Each Process/Value Stream 6

6.4 Standard Work 6

6.4.1 Job Classification Requiring Standard Work 6

6.4.2 Standard Work for each Job Classification/Activity 6

6.4.3 Process for Sustaining Standard Work 6

6.4.4 Process for Improving Standard Work 6

7 Conclusions	6
8 Lessons Learned	6
8.1 Related to Design	6
8.1.1 Use of Collective System Design	6
8.1.2 Use of Lean	6
8.2 Related to People's Job Definition	6
8.3 Related to Improvement	6
9 References	6
A System Design Map	6
B List of Acronyms	7
